Explanation of the above information:

Prana Biotechnology Ltd recorded revenue of A$70,310 for the period ended 31 December 2010 (2009: A$92,856), which is interest received on company bank accounts. The decrease in interest received is due to reduced amounts of cash on hand.

Prana Biotechnology Ltd has incurred a loss for the half year of A$3,833,093 (2009: A$2,215,845). This loss has increased due to an increase in expenditure on research and development.

Key Events Summary

- In July 2010, Prana presented data emerging from Prana's research team that the neuroprotective qualities of PBT2 indicate that PBT2 may have clinical application in Huntington's Disease (HD) patients in addition to Alzheimer's Disease (AD). At the International Conference on Alzheimer's Disease (ICAD) in Hawaii, Prana's Head of Research, Associate Professor Robert Cherny described how PBT2 prolonged survival, increased motor strength and delayed involuntary limb clenching that otherwise presents in the transgenic mouse model of HD. In addition, PBT2 appears to prevent the aggregation of the hallmark toxic mutant huntingtin protein. Examination of the brains of these transgenic mice revealed that PBT2 had a significant impact on preventing the degeneration of neurons, further evidencing the neuroprotective attributes of PBT2 that had been reported earlier in Prana's work on Alzheimer's Disease.
- In August 2010, Prana announced the grant of the key patent from the United States Patent and Trademark Office (USPTO) protecting the composition of matter of PBT2, together with protection for numerous other 8-hydroxyquinolines from Prana's MPAC library. The USPTO also extended the patent term such that the term of the patent is to 21 December 2025 with provision for possible additional pharmaceutical patent term extensions. In the same month, the nine month mandatory post-grant opposition period for the related case in Europe lapsed without any third party opposition. Accordingly, the case in Europe was placed on the Register of European Patents and the term is until 16 July 2023 with provision for possible pharmaceutical extension of patent term of five years.
- In September 2010, the highly regarded scientific journal Cell published the paper entitled, "Iron-export ferroxidase activity of beta-amyloid precursor protein (APP) is inhibited by zinc in Alzheimer's Disease", co-authored by Professor Ashley Bush, a founding scientist of Prana and member of the Company's R&D Advisory Board. The paper reported on the new discovery that APP plays a critical role in exporting iron out of neurons. A necessary function to prevent the buildup of iron in neurons, otherwise the iron promotes oxidative stress leading to neuronal death. APP can be prevented from performing this vital role by zinc present in the synapses. In AD, zinc accumulates in the synapses by being trapped by the amyloid aggregates that accumulate in the synapses as AD progresses. Accordingly, Prana's therapeutic strategy of restoring normal metal levels, such as zinc, in the brain is supported by these new research findings. PBT2 can transport zinc into neurons to promote normal neurotransmission and improve cognition.

- Late in September the company announced that there was sufficient compelling evidence for one of its Parkinson's Disease (PD) drug candidates, PBT434, to be declared its lead development compound for PD. PBT434 has demonstrated significant rescue of the neurons that die in PD, the substantia nigra, in two animal models of PD and that this preservation of neurons translated into significant improvement in motor coordination. Moreover, PBT434 has been shown to elevate levels of the protective protein called DJ-1 which is known to be important in reducing the rise of oxidative stress build-up in neurons in PD. Mutations in the gene for this protein cause Early Onset Parkinson's Disease. In addition PBT434 appears to reduce levels of another protein implicated in the pathology of PD called alpha – synuclein. The findings were presented at the 2nd World Parkinson Congress in Glasgow late September by Prana's Head of Research, Associate Professor Robert Cherny.
- In December 2010, Prana management assembled a team to develop a Phase IIa clinical trial protocol for the treatment of Huntington's Disease with PBT2. The group comprised leading clinical researchers from Australia and the United States including members from the Huntington Study Group based in the US and Australia. PBT2 has previously demonstrated that it can improve cognitive executive function in a Phase IIa study in Alzheimer's patients. The team considered the type of Phase IIa study most appropriate for PBT2, understanding its potential as a disease modifying approach to the treatment of this crippling disease.

Note 1 - Basis of Preparation

This general purpose financial report for the interim half year reporting period ended 31 December 2010 has been prepared in accordance with Accounting Standard AASB 134 Interim Financial Reporting ("AASB 134") and the Corporations Act 2001. This interim financial report complies with International Financial Reporting Standards ("IFRS") as issued by the International Accounting Standards Board ("IASB"), Australian equivalents to International Financial Reporting Standards ("A-IFRS") and AASB 134.

This interim financial report does not include all the notes of the type normally included in an annual financial report.

Accordingly, this report is to be read in conjunction with the Annual Report for the year ended 30 June 2010 and any public announcements made by Prana Biotechnology Limited during the interim reporting period in accordance with the continuous disclosure requirements of the Corporations Act 2001.

Accounting Policies

The accounting policies adopted are consistent with the most recent Annual Financial Report for the year ended 30 June 2010.

Going Concern

The consolidated entity is a development stage medical biotechnology company and as such expects to be utilising cash until its research activities have become marketable. As at 31 December 2010, the consolidated entity incurred an operating loss of A$3,833,093 (December 2009 loss: A$2,215,845). As at the half year-end, the consolidated entity's net assets stood at A$2,548,960 (June 2010: A$5,229,316). The consolidated entity's cash position has decreased to A$2,881,555 at 31 December 2010 from A$5,227,298 at 30 June 2010. There remains a material uncertainty of the Company's ability to continue as a going concern for a further twelve months from the date of signing the financial report and, therefore, whether the Company will realize its assets and extinguish its liabilities in the normal course of business and at the amounts stated in the financial report. However, the Directors believe that the going concern basis of preparation is appropriate given the following:

- The preservation of the Company's cash by the prioritisation of Prana's research and development programs. Accordingly, the Company is focussing on optimising opportunities to advance PBT2 back into the clinic in affordable strategies for Alzheimer's and Huntington's Disease.
- The Company is presently securing the financing necessary to ensure it continues as going concern over the next twelve months. However, to continue to meet it's longer term business objectives beyond the next twelve months, which would include advancement of the above noted programs, the Company would need to secure additional financing, which it is seeking via various opportunities. These include, mergers and acquisitions, potential joint venture arrangements and other means of securing resources from potential partners or investors.

At this time, the Directors are of the opinion that no asset is likely to be realized for an amount less than the amount at which it is recorded in the Statement of Financial Position at 31 December 2010. Therefore, no adjustments have been made to the financial report relating to the recoverability and classification of the asset carrying amounts or the classification of liabilities that might be necessary should the consolidated entity not continue as a going concern.

Note 2 - Dividends

The Company resolved not to declare any dividends for the period ended 31 December 2010.

Note 3 - Segment Information

The Company's activities are predominately within Australia and cover research into Alzheimer's Disease and other major age-related degenerative disorders.

Independent auditor's review report to the members of Prana Biotechnologies Limited

Report on the Half-Year Financial Report

We have reviewed the accompanying half-year financial report of Prana Biotechnologies Limited, which comprises the statement of financial position as at 31 December 2010, and the statement of comprehensive income, statement of changes in equity and statement of cash flows for the half-year ended on that date, selected explanatory notes and the directors' declaration for the Prana Biotechnologies Limited. The consolidated entity comprises both Prana Biotechnologies Limited the company and the entities it controlled during that half-year.

Directors' responsibility for the half-year financial report

The directors of the company are responsible for the preparation of the half-year financial report that gives a true and fair view in accordance with Australian Accounting Standards (including the Australian Accounting Interpretations) and the Corporations Act 2001 and for such control as the directors determine is necessary to enable the preparation of the half-year financial report that is free from material misstatement whether due to fraud or error.

Auditor's responsibility

Our responsibility is to express a conclusion on the half-year financial report based on our review. We conducted our review in accordance with Auditing Standard on Review Engagements ASRE 2410 Review of an Interim Financial Report Performed by the Independent Auditor of the Entity, in order to state whether, on the basis of the procedures described, we have become aware of any matter that makes us believe that the financial report is not in accordance with the Corporations Act 2001 including: giving a true and fair view of the consolidated entity's financial position as at 31 December 2010 and its performance for the half-year ended on that date; and complying with Accounting Standard AASB 134 Interim Financial Reporting and the Corporations Regulations 2001. As the auditor of Prana Biotechnologies Limited, ASRE 2410 requires that we comply with the ethical requirements relevant to the audit of the annual financial report.

A review of a half-year financial report consists of making enquiries, primarily of persons responsible for financial and accounting matters, and applying analytical and other review procedures. It also includes reading the other information included with the financial report to determine whether it contains any material inconsistencies with the financial report. A review is substantially less in scope than an audit conducted in accordance with Australian Auditing Standards and consequently does not enable us to obtain assurance that we would become aware of all significant matters that might be identified in an audit. Accordingly, we do not express an audit opinion.

While we considered the effectiveness of management's internal controls over financial reporting when determining the nature and extent of our procedures, our review was not designed to provide assurance on internal controls.

Independence

In conducting our review, we have complied with the independence requirements of the Corporations Act 2001.

Conclusion

Based on our review, which is not an audit, we have not become aware of any matter that makes us believe that the half-year financial report of Prana Biotechnologies Limited is not in accordance with the Corporations Act 2001 including:

- (a) giving a true and fair view of the consolidated entity's financial position as at 31 December 2010 and of its performance for the half-year ended on that date; and
- (b) complying with Accounting Standard AASB 134 Interim Financial Reporting and Corporations Regulations 2001.

Material Uncertainty Regarding Continuation as a Going Concern

Without qualifying our opinion, we draw attention to Note 1 in the half year financial report, which comments on the potential consequences of the company's cost reductions and ability to continue raising funds to meet their operational requirements. These conditions, along with other matters as set forth in Note 1, indicate the existence of a material uncertainty that may cast significant doubt about the entity's ability to continue as a going concern and therefore the entity may be unable to realise its assets and discharge its liabilities in the normal course of business and at the amounts stated in the half year financial report.
